The dispute cropped up in the year 1908 when Hutcha, the younger, pet^{r} the Dy authorities complaining that as agreed to by them at the time of partition, Thagadiah (his elder brother) even after the expiry of the period of his turn, refused to allow him to enter upon the duties of the Pujarike. The Amildar on the strength of the Mahazar executed by the villagers directed that both the brothers should discharge the duties in rotation of 2 years and that Thagadiah should hand over charge to his brother.

On appeal by Thagadiah, the Dy. Commr cancelled the Amildar's order and directed that Hutcha cannot claim the office during the life time of his elder brother.

Against the above order, Hutcha has appealed to Govt

Sir,

With reference to your office Memorandum No 2516, dated the 19th April 1910, forwarding for report the appeal petition of Hutcha of Cholanaikenahalli in the Magadi Taluk, regarding the Poojarike of Bharamma devaru temple, I have the honor to submit herewith the records connected with the case and to report as follows: —

1. The temple in question is a Muzrai institution endowed with some Inam lands.

2. In April 1908 Hutcha, the younger son of Lingiah the original poojari submitted a petition to the Amildar (Marg 5 of Magadi Taluk, stating that he and Thagadish were brothers, that they effected a partition of their family properties including the temple Inam land, the hereditary hak of the temple was agreed by them, as settled in a panchayat held at the time of partition to be enjoyed by both the brothers in turns of two years each, that according to this agreement, pooja was being performed by them in rotation, but this time Thagadiah even after the expiry of the period of his turn having refused to allow him (Hutcha) to enjoy his share of the Hak, the latter prayed that he might be allowed to perform the puja for the next two years in his turn.

3. Thagadiah admitted that he and his brother Hutcha divided their properties including the temple Inam lands between themselves, but denied any settlement regarding worshipping by turns made in the panchayat held at the time of division. He further stated that he being the elder member of the family continued to perform the puja, and that after the death of his father, on applying to the Aboyroi Superintendent when he visited Aboagadi, the Baraward of puja of ship was transferred in his name.

4. The Amildar having found (Flag X from the Abahijar that both the brothers were enjoying the puja (Flag W

nor

nor his brother Hutcha has any right to the Inam lands nor have they got power to dispose of the puja Hak in any manner they please. But to allow the parties to divide the Inam land and to enjoy the puja Hak by turns, being expedient, I directed the order of the Amildar that Thagadiah should hand over charge of puja to his brother Hutcha, should be cancelled, Hutcha having no right whatever to the pujari Hak during life time of his elder brother Thagadiah.

Before the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Appeal No. of 1910-11

Appellant. Vs. Respondent.

Hucha of Chavadanaikanhalli, Magadi Taluk.

Tagada of Chavadanaikanhalli.

S u b j e c t.

Pujarike of Maramma Devaru at Chavadanaikanhalli.

Facts of the case

The parties are brothers. On 25-th April 1908, the Appellant complained to the Amildar that the Respondent whose term was over, would not make over the puja to him. The Amildar after a summary enquiry was of opinion that there were grounds to believe that each brother was doing puja by rotation for a period of two years enjoying half the Inam land and ordered that the same arrangement should continue. On appeal, the Deputy Commissioner held -- that the inam land according to the inam title-deed was to be enjoyed by the manager of the institution, that the brothers could not dispose of the same or of the puja as they liked, and that Hucha, the younger brother, could have no right during the life time of his elder brother--

Against the Deputy Commissioner's order, Hucha has appealed to Government. The parties were heard before Government, ---- Decision.

The Appellant urges that he and his elder brother had been doing the work of ~~the~~ puja by turns (two years at a time). The Amildar accepted this as made out. The Deputy Commissioner does not say-- that this is not true and the Respondent does not (when questioned -- here) deny that his brother was also performing the puja. Government observe that there is nothing to support the Deputy Commissioner's view that the younger brother can have no right to the office when the elder ~~is~~ is alive and that there is nothing opposed to any - rule of law or public policy in two brothers performing puja in a minor village temple by turns. The Deputy Commissioner's order is therefore set aside. If it is true that the Appellant used to perform a puja two years and the respondent two years, the practice will be enforced accordingly again. The inam land belongs of course to the temple and should be in the possession of the man actually performing the service.

The Chairman stated that he had been informed by counsel that the parties had arrived at a settlement of the matter in dispute, and that the Deputy Commissioner had accepted this as a full and final settlement of the claim (when questioned -- he stated that this was not true and he should not have accepted it on that basis). The Deputy Commissioner also noted that the work of the party by Murua (two years, one time). The Chairman observed that there is nothing on record to show that the Deputy Commissioner had ever ascertained whether the claimant had been employed elsewhere during the period of unemployment. The Deputy Commissioner also noted that the claimant had been in receipt of unemployment benefit from the Department of Social Welfare since the termination of his employment with the Company. It is not clear whether the Deputy Commissioner was aware of this fact when he decided to accept the settlement.

Having regard to the foregoing circumstances, the Tribunal is of opinion that the Deputy Commissioner should not have accepted the settlement without further investigation of the matter, and that the claimant should be given an opportunity of proving his claim. The appeal is accordingly allowed.
